INTEREST INCREASES IN CONFERENCES TO BE HELD HERE THIS 1940 SEASON TWO ADDITIONAL GATHERINGS LISTED

The sixty first season of the Northfield Summer Conferences will be ushered in on June 21st when the Northfield Girls Conference begins its sessions. Then will follow in order the Mount Hermon Alumni Institute at Mount Hermon June 29 to July 6 inclusive; The Massachusetts Christian Endeavor Conference on the Seminary campus, June 29th to July 6th; Then the Y W C A Business Girls Conference at Mount Hermon, July 6th to 13th; Then the Northfield Missionary Conference at the Seminary, July 8th to 16th; July 13th to 20th at Mount Hermon, the United Presbyterian Conference; July 22nd to August 12th at Mount Hermon, the Westminster Choir College; and on July 27th to August 12th at the Seminary, the Northfield General Conference. The Sacred Concert of the Northfield schools will be on Sunday May 12th; the commencement at the Seminary and at Mount Hermon will be on Monday June 10th and the Music Festival of the Westminster Choir college will be held in the Auditorium on Sunday August 11th. Northfield is promised an active summer season and again the usual thousands of visitors will be given a most cordial greeting. Indications point that most of our summer residents will return for the entire season and that there will be very few vacant summer homes. Reservations at the Hotel and for quarters in the schools dormitories are already being received. Each Conference will issue its own program and conduct its own affairs and the Press hopes soon to announce the complete details of each gathering. This season will be marked by the addition of two new gatherings—The Mount Hermon Alumni Institute and the Y.W.C.A. Business Girls' Conference. The continued growth of Northfield as a center of summer religious and recreational activity is more than an acknowledgment of the natural advantages of this undeniably beautiful bit of country. It is also a tribute to the vision of the pioneers who, inspired by D. L. Moody, saw buildings, rolling lawns, changed lives, and great traditions rising from the rather uninspiring bare and rocky meadows of this ancient Connecticut Valley community. These visions have materialized perhaps beyond the expectations of those early dreamers into the Northfield Seminary and Mount Hermon School, both of which become in the summer gathering places for the thousands who attend these summer conferences. The 1940 schedule offers one of the most complete and well-rounded programs in its religious recreational and cultural aspects in Northfield Conference history. Readers who desire further information should write to Northfield Summer Conferences Kenard Hall, East Northfield, Mass. and such information will be gladly furnished.

Game Club Banquet

The Northfield Fish and Game association will hold their annual banquet next Wednesday in the Town Hall at 7:00 o'clock. It will be a turkey dinner prepared and served under the direction of the Northfield Hotel and only a limited number of tickets have been issued for members and their friends. After the supper, in the hall, a vaudeville program will be given and from nine o'clock to midnight dancing will be enjoyed. Door prizes contributed by the business men of the town will be given away. The committee in charge of the affair consists of James E. Dresser, the President of the association, Samuel Truesdell and William H. Dalton.

Maple Sap Running

The local maple sap season is just beginning in this vicinity and in Vermont. The flow which has just begun is a little later than usual and not so free, probably owing to the continued cold weather. Although no official tests have been made it is said that the quality is very good and sweeter than usual. It is said that a delayed opening of the season always results in a higher sugar content. The sugar content runs from three to seven per cent with a barrel of sap required on an average to produce a gallon of syrup. Franklin county leads in Massachusetts in the production of maple sap, although in Vermont it assumes the proportions of a state industry.

Wintery Weather Falls Into Lap Of Spring

Last Friday winter took on life anew, and when everyone was anxious to finish their shopping and prepare for the Easter day, the cold again asserted itself and several times sent the mercury down toward the zero mark. Some snow, and high winds which drifted it, caused many a shoveler a real headache. The roads were icy, slippery and treacherous and motorists who were not compelled to use their cars, kept them in the garage. On Easter day, very few spring bonnets were seen, for most folks delayed their spring showings for milder weather. For five continuous days we have simply experienced a "knockout" from old man "Winter." Unseasonable as the weather was about Northfield, we suffered not alone, for most of the country endured the cold season. Last year, March 24th, was a warm and pleasant day here and Easter came later. Not for 27 years did Easter come as early as this year.

Mrs. Jessie E. Orr

The sad intelligence reached Northfield early Tuesday morning of the death of Mrs. Jessie E. Orr at her home in New York City. Mrs. Orr was the daughter of Isaiah Moody, a brother of Dwight L. Moody and maintained a home on Pine Street in this town. She had been ill for some time but was on the way to recovery when illness again became apparent and her death was sudden. She is survived by a daughter, Miss Mildred Orr, who is a teacher at St. Timothy's school in Catonsville, Md., and two sons, Richard and Raymond Orr both of New York City. Also a sister, Mrs. Clara M. Buck. The body was brought to Northfield yesterday (Thursday) for burial in the family plot in Center cemetery with committal services at the grave at three o'clock.

Mrs. Emily C. Hillman

Mrs. Emily C. Hillman of East Northfield died Saturday, March 23, at the Brattleboro Memorial Hospital. For the past eight years she had been living with her daughter, Mrs. Franz M. George of this town. Mrs. Hillman was born in St. Genevieve, Mo., Sept. 12, 1850. Her husband Theodore A. Hillman died several years ago. She is survived by four daughters Mrs. W. F. Babbe of Jersey City, N. J., Mrs. R. L. Brown of West Orange, N. J., Mrs. H. G. Yorbrough of New York City and Mrs. Franz M. George. The body was sent to New York for funeral services at the Stephen-Merritt funeral home. Interment was in Woodlawn cemetery, New York. Mrs. Hillman had been a "shut-in" for a long time due to the feebleness of old age and she lived very quietly, knowing very few of the townspeople. But those who were her friends loved to visit her and see her cheery smile and listen to her tell anecdotes. Mrs. Hillman possessed a strong faith in Christ and was zealous in propagating the faith.

Everett E. Belding

Everett E. Belding, a native of Northfield and dean of the newspapermen in Franklin County, died at the Franklin County Hospital last Sunday. He was the last of the Belding family, early settlers in this town, to occupy the Belding place at South Vernon and shortly before his death had sold most of the entire estate. He had charge of the county correspondents for the Recorder Gazette and its news in this particular was very comprehensive. His funeral in Greenfield was largely attended and he was buried in Oak Grove cemetery at Springfield, where he had lived and was engaged in business for most of his life.

Committee Named To Study School Matters

In compliance with the vote taken at the special meeting of the town held recently, gatherings have been held in each school district and a member of the special committee was named to study the subject of consolidation of our schools and the housing problem. East Northfield named Max L. Huber; West Northfield, Fred I. Bolton; Center, Willis K. Parker; No. 3, James E. Dresser; and No. 4, Ralph O. Leach. The school board named Sidney Given and it is likely that the selectmen will name Mr. Holton, who under the vote, will be Chairman. This Committee will hold several meetings and discuss the problem and when ready to report their conclusions, another special meeting of the voters will be called to take action. The first meeting of the committee will be called this week end, it is said.

Browning - Marcy

In a home wedding, yesterday, Thursday afternoon Miss Ethel R. Marcy, daughter of John Marcy of East Northfield, became the bride of Homer F. Browning, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer F. Browning of Northfield Farms. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. Stanley Carne pastor of the Congregational church. The wedding was at the groom's home. The bride wore white, and her bridesmaid, Miss June R. Browning, wore an aqua taffeta gown. Herbert D. Marcy, brother of the bride, was best man, with Beatrice Hillock as ring bearer.

Following an unannounced trip the couple will live in an apartment at the groom's parents' home. The bride attended Northfield seminary and graduated from Northfield high school in the class of 1939. The groom attended Northfield high school and is assisting on his parents' dairy farm.

Hosts To Garden Club

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Carr will be hosts to the members of the Northfield Garden Club at its regular monthly meeting, next Monday evening. Much time will be given to the consideration of matters in connection with the Flower Show to be given at the Chateau this summer. President Goodspeed promises a most interesting session.

Ripley To Move

Owing to the expansion of their business, Ripley Brothers, have leased the large Williams store on Main Street and will take possession on May first to continue the manufacture of the New England Colonial rugs for which they have had a large demand. When they came to Northfield, they rented the old Postoffice building but it has proved inadequate to their needs, and they have endeavored to find larger quarters. It is well to know that this infant industry is moving forward with success.

More Sweaters Sent By The Red Cross

The Franklin County Chapter, American Red Cross, has made another shipment of sweaters to New York for transmittal to Europe for the benefit of Poland and Finland. This shipment of 35 men's, women's and children's sweaters applies on the chapter's second quota of war production work.

On April 1st the chapter plans to make an added shipment of garments consisting of dresses and sweaters made mostly by a group of workers in Deerfield. Because of the urgent need for warm clothing in Finland and Poland the chapter is making frequent small shipments instead of waiting for its quota to be completed.

The chapter still has to complete on its second quota about two dozen children's and one dozen women's dresses and will welcome contributions from societies and individuals in order that material may be provided for volunteer workers to work up.

A Hermon Impression

James Lee Ellenwood, State Secretary of the Young Mens Christian Associations of New York, who has been chosen as the graduation speaker at the Mount Hermon school commencement, has put into verse his impression of Mount Hermon and upon a recent visit recited it at a chapel service. The Press is happy to pass it along to its readers.

I look upon those sturdy hills that face Mount Hermon's site
And pray that I may be as strong as they, for God and right.

I see the farms that men have tilled to meet their daily need
And pray that I may also plant my share of useful seed.

I sit within these chapel walls where love and peace endure
And hope throughout the coming years that I may be as pure.

I feel the goodness of this place since Hermon first began
And pray that while I live, I'll strive to be a Godly man.

A Tribute

The "foot prints" of a man, who walked along life's pathway, with us, only yesterday, are gone from our sight. He has not vanished behind but has gone ahead, forward.

As he traveled along that path with us he smoothed out the way for those who would follow. He has given more than he has taken from life. Now he has gone to his reward. Lester A. Polhemus was always helpful and friendly to all who sought his friendship.

His thoughts may well have been taken from Longfellow's "Psalm of Life":
"Lives of great men all remind us. We can make our lives sublime, And departing leave behind us, Footprints on the sands of time. Footprints that perhaps another, Sailing o'er life's solemn main, A forlorn and shipwrecked brother, Seeing shall take heart again. Let us then be up and doing, With a heart for any fate; Still achieving, still pursuing, Learn to labour and to wait."

We Receive Our Share Of Income Tax Funds More Than Last Year

In the distribution of the income tax funds by the State, Northfield will receive $3,268, which is more than last year. This amount will be applied, in the total receipts of monies from the state, to the reduction of the town budget by the Assessors in determining the tax rate. Checks aggregating $8,355,014, half of the state income tax, which must be distributed before April 15, were mailed to cities and towns of the state by State Treasurer William E. Hurley. Last year, $7,730,945.47 was distributed as the first half of distribution.

Money sent out, an increase of $624,608.53, represents half of what Tax Commissioner Henry F. Long estimates the state income tax will bring in this year. The increase is due to better business conditions and taxation of federal employees' income for 1939, the first time of such taxation.

The following list shows the amounts received by Franklin County towns: Ashfield, $2180; Bernardston, $2460; Buckland, $3216; Charlemont, $1676; Colrain, $3034; Conway, $1396; Deerfield, $5966; Erving, $2679; Gill, $1990; Greenfield, $35,405; Hawley, $600; Heath, $1098; Leverett, $1267; Leyden, $554; Monroe, $1233; Montague, $15,623; New Salem, $839; Northfield, $3268; Orange, $9829; Rowe, $764; Shelburne, $4379; Shutesbury, $518; Sunderland, $2019; Warwick, $788.

State Auto Inspection To Start April 1

On April 1 the semi-annual compulsory inspection of all motor vehicles will be started. On or before April 30 all car owners must obtain official approval of their brakes, head-lights, steering equipment, tires and other equipment.

Who's Got The Button

When the Hobby Show was given by the Fortnightly in Alexander Hall recently, Miss Amy Hamilton, made an unusual display of buttons, mounted and described on cards. It seemed to many as if here a new idea had prevailed in the way of a hobby collection, but shortly after it was announced that a woman in South Deerfield, had gathered together a fine collection and now it is announced in the Brattleboro paper that Miss Ernestine Johnson of South Vernon has a large collection over 934 different buttons and recently exhibited them at the Pond school. Collecting buttons has become a real "hobby."

B. & M. Has Deficit

Deficit of $208,784.17, after fixed charges, is reported by the Boston and Maine railroad for February in the monthly financial statement, made public today. This compares with deficit of $209,922.55, reported in February, last year.

The figures show, however, that for the first two months this year the deficit of the road is $71,432.03 less than that reported in the first two months of 1939.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Information regarding Poll Taxes, as taken from General Laws relating to taxation.

Chapter 59, Section 1—In the year 1939 and annually thereafter a Poll Tax of $2.00 shall be assessed on every male inhabitant of the Commonwealth above the age of 20, whether a citizen of the United States or an alien.

Chapter 59, Section 17A—Male inhabitants of the Commonwealth who are 70 years of age or over, or who, during the preceding calendar year, were recipients of old age assistance or of aid furnished by municipalities from funds appropriated by them for the relief support, maintenance and employment of the poor, shall be assessed for, but shall be exempt at their request from the payment of, a poll tax.

As indicated by the above sections from the laws relating to taxation all males 20 years of age or over must be placed on the list by the assessors and must be sent a tax bill by the collector of taxes, however those over 70 years of age or otherwise eligible for exemption may secure the proper application for abatement or exemption from the Board of Assessors, with whom the application must be filed when completed.

The Quota Is Passed In Local Contributions For Pioneer Valley Fund

The Pioneer Valley Association fund for nationally advertising the advantages of Franklin, Hampshire, and Hampden counties now totals $14,745.75, according to Alfred H. Hastings, of Springfield, treasurer of the Association. 1275 business organizations and individuals subscribed this amount in sixty cities and towns in this region. For Northfield, where the quota was $400, A. Gordon Moody, Manager of the Northfield Hotel, a Vice President of the Association and who had the local campaign in charge reports that we have over-subscribed the quota and that $420 has been reported. This amount will probably be increased by further contributions. Northfield is, and becoming more so, primarily a place of summer tourist and visitor business and the town must emphasize, that fact, more and more in the future in the development and expansion of the town. Northfield will expect much from the Pioneer Valley Association efforts.

In checking the number of members in the 60 cities and towns now covered by the Pioneer Valley Association fund, officials have announced that so far, the town of Ware has the largest membership. Northampton is second. Greenfield third, and Springfield fourth. "Although it is a splendid achievement to have enlisted nearly 1300 businesses, including banks, utilities, and others throughout the region, there is quite a difference in financing a program with $15,000 and financing a program with the $20,000 we require," said John W. Haigis, president of the Association. "Naturally, we CAN adjust our plans to meet revised budget, but we are hoping that this will not be necessary, and we are going to wait and appeal to all for more additional contributions to reach the total amount necessary to adequately carry on the outlined work."

"Tish" Drew Crowds

"Tish" produced at the Town Hall, Monday and Tuesday evenings by the Northfield Players, drew large audiences both evenings and reaped a large profit for the benefit of the Senior class Washington trip fund. The cast and story of the play was as presented in a previous issue of the Press and the various characters were well portrayed and the action both natural and realistic. Those who took the various parts acquitted themselves with credit.

Charitable Trusts Are Found Neglected By Town Authorities

During the past four years a study and investigation of some 350,000 wills, made under the direction of the Attorney General of the State, Paul A. Dever finds that approximately $8,000,000 remains in hidden reservoirs and that purposes of gifts have not been carried out.

The survey was made by 53 WPA workers, supplemented by investigators from the attorney-general's office, and it covered wills probated in Massachusetts since Colonial days.

These funds, existence of which has been unknown for years, were originally donated by public spirited citizens for relief of the poor, construction of hospitals, libraries, recreational centers and for educational and religious purposes.

However, provisions requiring the expenditures of annual income were found to have been disregarded, through negligence or oversight, by allowing the income to accumulate. This unfruitful accumulation of income has been halted and the trustees required to spend the income.

The investigation resulted in the discovery and correction of numerous abuses and loose methods of administration and improper investment of funds involving hundreds of thousands of dollars have been summarily checked.

In addition, the attorney-general's office, which is charged with supervising public charitable trusts, possesses for the first time in the history of the Commonwealth a record of testamentary charitable trusts with specific information . . . of inestimable value.

No specific charges are made affecting any particular bequest for is any reference made to any community but it is known that the investigation reached into Northfield for a study of the situation regarding the conditions of certain bequests. Trustees of funds, whether it be individuals or the community, in assuming responsibilities, should make sure that provisions of wills are fully carried out.

A Visit To Sears Since Renovation

The large store of Sears Roebuck on Main Street in Greenfield is a popular shopping place for folks living in this town and its vicinity and most any day, someone may be discovered selecting needed merchandise there. The store, so familiar to all, has recently undergone some changes and thousands of dollars have made it a brighter and better place. Manager Alton C. Hawkes afforded a preview of the improvements last week and sent invitations to many citizens here, some of whom attended. The entire store has been repainted and the light improved, making it most attractive. Down stairs, is of an open area, with the various departments in full view as one descends the stairs. As on the first floor all sections can be readily seen and the displays are most attractive. To wander about the store aimlessly, is even an education as merchandise reveals itself immediately. The high quality and low prices of all goods are maintained. Mr. Hawkes invites all patrons of Sears to call and inspect the varied improvements. Incidentally the large staff of employees will be very happy to be of service.

Arbor Day will be Saturday April 27th this year. Plan now to set out a tree or two at that time on your property.

The national convention of the American Legion will be held in Boston September 22 and continue for several days. Members of the Northfield Legion post are already making plans to attend.

and proved they were real thespians. Comment of the production is most favorable by our citizens and many express themselves that more such theatrical performances should be given to both amuse and entertain.

A Pioneer Valley Map

According to Miss Elizabeth Shoemaker, Secretary of the Pioneer Valley Association, it is proposed to issue a detail tourist map of the counties of Hampden, Hampshire and Franklin, which compose the "valley." Said map will show all roads and highways and mark the places of historic and scenic interest. Communities will be described and their attractiveness stated, which means that Northfield will be included. It should prove of much value to every community in the area. The cost of the first edition will probably be about a $1,000 and will be ready for distribution the latter part of May.

Spring! When the open road calls.
Spring! When the weather's fine.
Spring! When the country beckons
And cars spin down the line.

Spring! And a million cars out.
Spring! When the motors hum.
So, if you go walking,
Spring when you see 'em come!

To Participate

Massachusetts participation in the World's Fair of 1940 in New York became assured this week when Governor Leverett Saltonstall announced that the Governor's executive council had approved an appropriation of $20,000 for that purpose. The 1940 Fair will open May 11.

Contracts for Massachusetts participation will be signed within a few days. At the request of Senator Angier L. Goodwin, chairman of the Massachusetts World's Fair Commission, a continuation agreement will be drawn up by the Fair and submitted for signature in Boston.

Governor Saltonstall was very much pleased with the Massachusetts display in the New England exhibit a year ago. More than 2,378,000 persons visited the state pavilion during the 1939 season.

Coffee Cup Print

FASHION'S most unusual contribution to your 1940 spring costume is the series of American Symbol Prints—gay designs adopted from nationally famous trademarks. Mary Martin, singing star of "Good News of 1940," prefers the coffee-cup-and-last-drop pattern shown in the picture. Blue and white are the colors chosen by the girl whose heart belongs to daddy.

ROUND THE WORLD

We journeyed to Vienna, to Paris, and to Wales,
To Norway and to Denmark, by auto and by rail;
To Egypt and to Smyrna, to China and Peru,
To Sweden and to Poland, explored them through and through.
We traveled on to Naples, to Lisbon, and to Rome,
To Dresden and to Athens; and there felt at home.
We stopped awhile at Belfast, at Calais, and at York,
At Argyle and at Limerick, to hear the natives talk;
We hied away to Milo, Palermo, and Madrid,
To Corea and to Gilead, by big green forests hid;
To Corinth and to Bristol, to Stockholm and to Leeds,
To Carthage and to Cornish, all famed for noble deeds.

Mount Hermon Alumni Institute

From June 29 to July 6, the campus of Mount Hermon school will be the scene of an institute for the School's alumni and their families. Two or three outstanding men will be secured to conduct classes each morning of the one-week school and a number of the long-term faculty members will participate in the program. Lieut. Governor Cahill of Massachusetts will be one of the speakers.
Afternoons will be given over to recreation which will be organized for the women and children as well as for the Hermon alumni. Tennis, swimming, baseball, golf, and various other sports will be provided. In the evening will be definitely planned events including movies, entertainments and impromptu programs.

The Alumni Institute plan will enable former Hermon students to go to school once more in the halls of learning which were familiar to them in their youth. It provides an opportunity for a real vacation and a chance to meet again their friends and classmates without the hurry of a reunion weekend. Many reservations have been made already by old Hermonites for themselves and their entire families, and the Institute bids fair to become a very successful event.

EDITORIAL

Thanksgiving in 1940 in Massachusetts will be observed in the traditional way and at the established historic time, the last Thursday of November, according to an assurance given by Governor Saltonstall who says he will proclaim Thursday, November 28th 1940 as Thanksgiving day. The Governor says, "The last Thursday in November has unquestionably become in Massachusetts the inspiring symbol of the historical, patriotic and spiritual elements of the occasion." The Governors of Rhode Island, Connecticut, New Hampshire and Vermont have also now declared themselves for the holiday date, as did the Governor of our state. Surely in New England the protest is loud and definite against any changing by Presidential decree.

Never before in the history of this town has so much real estate found its way into the market, "for sale." Families are diminishing and the beautiful large homes are not profitable for maintenance by owners nor available for rental purposes. Owners who contemplate future residence, desire the smaller home, while many hope to spend winters elsewhere and only summer here. Properties are offered at prices much below their real values and to-day presents the opportunity to purchase at a real saving. This community will need a new influx of residents to absorb the available real estate, otherwise a very definite problem will prevail. It behooves us all to sell Northfield to our visitors this summer. They are prospects for permanent residents.

The Back Yard Gardener

By G. O. Oleson

The home gardener's best friends are the nurserymen. There are of course some qualifications to that statement, but the more I get around the more convinced I am that it is true, especially with folks like myself who are not certain whether illex epaca is a rose or a honeysuckle, when it is American holly.

If you really want to get somewhere in this gardening game, find a good nurseryman near your home and trust him to give you the best advice. You may ask how you will know if he is giving you the best advice. Well, it won't take you long to learn. For one thing, if he is honest, he will ask an honest price for his goods and no more.

I was reading two articles just this week in two different papers. They were both written by nurserymen, and they were writing about this same general idea, only they were speaking to nurserymen and not to home gardeners. Plants properly handled and sold at a fair price make more friends and more money in the long run.

And speaking of roses, here are a few of the newer varieties recommended by a well known nurseryman. Among the hybrid teas—Dixon's Red, which is a glowing scarlet with exquisite fragrance; Hector Deane, buds of crimson with orange at the base; Mme. Charles Mallerin, orange copper color; Satan, beautiful red; Red Boy, which has single flowers and scarlet blushed with orange; Lady Lindsay, which produces double pink flowers.

Among the climbing roses he recommends Red Blaze and the yellow Doubleblans, and then a new one, June Morn, which has a bud of golden yellow on the outside of the petal and a watermelon pink on the inside; also Golden Light, which is a golden yellow flower with a red stripe in the bud.

And now I might say just a word about the early care of roses. Uncover them as early as freezing weather is past. Then clean the beds and prune the roses and spray with a good fungicide.

Roses like plenty to eat so give them a good feeding of a well balanced fertilizer. For hybrid perpetuals, one recommendation says one rounded tablespoonful to each square foot early and then again when the buds begin to pen. For hybrid teas the same in early spring and then again about every three weeks until July. A mixture of dusting sulphur and arsenate of lead repeated every two weeks makes an excellent preventive of black spot and mildew. Of course watch for the appearance of aphids and control them with nicotine or rotenone. If you are planning on planting any roses this spring, get them in just as early as possible and hill them up well until they are almost covered, leaving the soil in place until the plants are well started.

Know Massachusetts

Compiled by State Planning Board

Do you know that in Massachusetts the number of pairs of shoes produced per worker increased from 1516 in 1929 to 1718 in 1937 and apparently was still larger in 1939. . . . Three million pairs of the new steel toe safety shoe, invented by a Holliston manufacturer, were made in that town in 1939. . . . The Boston Consolidated Gas Company is the largest gas company in New England, serving approximately 250,000 customers. . . . Massachusetts was the first colony to record vital statistics; its records of births, marriages and deaths began in 1639. . . . Deaths from pneumonia in Massachusetts dropped to 3120 in 1939, compared with 4174 in 1937. . . . The site of the Boston Massacre, 30 State Street is marked by a brass arrow pointing into the street where a cobblestone circle indicates the exact spot where the first patriots fell when fired upon by the British. . . . Three hundred thousand guests are expected at the American Legion national convention in Boston next September. . . . A Cambridge man and his wife invented the best rust-proofing process yet devised and have recently developed a method of rust-proofing ferrous metals in various colors. . . . nine town suburbs of Boston have lot size restrictions in their zoning laws in certain areas ranging from 20,000 square feet to one acre.
